Loss in aid

Schools face possible $200,000 budget loss

Local schools are waiting anxiously for the final word to come from Washington and Springfield as to how much in federal and state aids they will lose this year.

Even then the school administrations can never be sure that they will receive all the funds the budget allowed for said Antioch High School Superintendent Warren Polley. Polley exemplified this with the postponement that the high school received of the double payment that was expected from the state this June. This will mean a hold-up of almost three percent of the state aid that was in the 1981-82 budget.

Dr. Donald Skidmore, Antioch Grade School superintendent, says that recommendations now in front of the state board of education indicate a possible loss of between $100,000 and $200,000 in state revenues for the 1982-83 school year.

Supt. Richard Hogan, Grass Lake School, although sure he will have less monies to work with next year says, "right now it's anybody's guess."

Haley to appear at narcotics hearing

According to Chief Jim Donaldson of the Lake County Sheriff's Dept., his department picked up William Haley, 39, Antioch two weeks ago on a governor's warrant from the state of Florida, charging Haley with the transportation of narcotics.

Haley was released on a $5,000 bond and is to appear in Lake County Court, Room 205, at 9:45 a.m., on Tuesday, Feb. 2.

Capt. Fred Frutado, superintendent of warrants, Palm Beach County, said that an agent from the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Dept. was enroute to the hearing in Lake County for purposes of identification of Haley.

The agent worked on the case allegedly involving Haley in connection with Palm Beach County authorities' seizure of the corporate plane owned by William Zeigler, Round Lake, last spring.

Marijuana found aboard the plane was estimated by Florida authorities to be valued at $476,600. Two men arrested at the scene and later convicted of drug trafficking, receiving seven year probationary sentences, implicated Haley, as Zeigler's pilot, who had access to the plane.

County planners hold hearing on Antioch's future

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Lake County Regional Planning Commission held the seventh out of its scheduled 11 public hearings focusing on Antioch and the planned growth of Lake County by the year 2000.

The hearing was held to explain the plan and its relation to the Antioch area, to answer local residents' questions and also to get their input.

About 30 people were present, including village and township officials, local residents and businessmen, realtors and well-diggers and some candidates for public office.

Although this commission predicts that the major growth in Lake County by the year 2000 will be in the urban and surrounding suburban areas, Jack Lichter, the meeting's moderator and outgoing chairman of the commission, fielded most of the audience's questions that concerned the countryside or agricultural districts designated in the county-wide plan.

A bulk of the 90,000 acres designated agricultural or countryside are in the Antioch area. Consequently many of the questions centered on the countryside acreage.

One member of the audience said that only the rich could afford to live in areas so designated because of the 10, five and one acre restrictions, with major land portions coming under the open space restriction.

In answer to Bill Brooks' query on the housing options for those living in areas so designated, Eve Lee, new commission chairman, listed four options. They included the 15 percent open space between properties requirement, the cluster development of one-acre lots whose deeds will include the 70 percent open space restriction, and the cluster of one-acre lots on 30 percent of the property with a 70 percent open space restriction where city water and sewers are available, as in Grandwood Park.

Lee stressed that the purpose of the plan was to try to control the population density in the unincorporated areas in order to combat a sudden need for schools, sewers and waters with no way to fund them.

Bob Churchill, Lake Villa, candidate for the state house in the 62nd Dist., asked if the open space restrictions would remain on deeds until changed by the county board. He was told that the temporary open space restrictions would only be put on deeds where open space was required and that these property owners would be able to petition the county board for a change in classification to estate or suburban, if desired.

Churchill said that he wanted to establish this fact to combat possible future court decisions that may ride on the county board's original land classification.

Evelyn Bolt, Republican candidate for Lake County Board from Lake Villa, asked, "Will the area's well water supply be sufficient up to the year 2000?"

Lane Kendig, director of Lake County Dept. of Planning, Zoning and Environmental Quality, said, "the Antioch planning area has a super-abundance of shallow and deep well water, unlike other more urban areas across the nation."

Kendig added that the '70s brought the housing shortage, the '80s the energy shortage and the '90s are predicted to bring the water shortage.

Antioch Township Supervisor Jim Fields asked if the cluster developments would necessarily have to hook-up with public water and sewer systems in the future.

"I don't know if areas designated countryside will ever have sewer and water systems," answered Kendig.

Good news in The News

Autistic Bowl

Sponsor sheets are still available for the Third Annual Bowling For Autistic Children, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., on Sunday, Feb. 7, at the Antioch Bowl. They are available at the Bowl, Antioch's financial institutions or by contacting Mary Schaub of the Antioch Jayettes, chairman of the project.

Call (312) 395-8796 for information.

Ballet Classes

Starting Feb. 9, Antioch Parks and Recreation will be sponsoring a beginning ballet class, taught by Kathy Turkowski, every Tuesday and Thursday evening.

Ages five to eight will have class from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. and ages nine to 14 will have class from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.

The fee will be $20 per month or a total of $40 for eight weeks of classes.

There will be a fund raiser for Jim Fields, candidate for the Lake County Board, 4th Dist., from 2 to 6 p.m., on Sunday, Feb. 14, at the Antioch VFW Center on North Ave.

Donation will be $10 and refreshments will be free.

Five Rotary scholarships offered to local students

The Antioch Rotary Club has announced the availability of five scholarships worth $12,000 or $13,000 per year.

The purpose of the Rotary Foundation Scholarships is to further international understanding and friendly relations between peoples of different countries. Both men and women may apply for one of the five foundation scholarships to accomplish one academic year of study or training in a foreign country where Rotary Clubs are located.

During the year of study in a foreign country, foundation scholars are expected to be outstanding ambassadors of good will in interacting and communicating with the people of the host study country and through both informal and formal appearances before Rotary Clubs, school and civic organizations and other forums.

After the foreign study has been accomplished, the scholar is expected to discuss and share the experiences and understanding acquired during the scholarship studies with the people of the scholar's home country and the Rotarians who sponsored the scholarship.

The five Rotary Foundation Scholarships are: graduate scholarships for those who will have received a bachelor's degree or its equivalent before the commencement of scholarship studies; undergraduate scholarships for those who are studying at the university level but who will not have completed their bachelor's degree before the commencement of scholarship studies; vocational scholarships for those who are secondary school graduates and who have been employed or engaged full-time in a vocation for at least two years as of the application deadline. Applicants must not be eligible for a graduate or undergraduate scholarship; teacher of the handicapped scholarships; for those who have been employed or engaged as full-time teachers of the physically, mentally or educationally handicapped for at least two years as of the application deadline; and journalism scholarships for those who have been employed in a full-time position as a journalist at the time of application or have been actively pursuing full-time postsecondary studies in print or broadcast journalism for two years prior to the commencement of award studies for which application has been made, and who intend to pursue the profession of journalism after completion of their scholarship studies.

Set Legion potluck

Antioch American Legion Auxiliary Unit 748 will be celebrating their birthday, Monday, Feb. 1, with a "share-a-dish" supper at the post home, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Post members, relatives and friends are cordially invited to attend. Following the dinner, a short business meeting will be held, after which cards and games will be played.

The committee for the evening will be contacting members to suggest certain foods for the supper. Should you want to attend and are not contacted, please join us, bringing your choice of a dish to pass.

The main items to come up during the business meeting will be the 54th Annual Patriotic Conference at the Bismark Hotel in Chicago.

Final plans to attend the conference will have to be made no later than our March meeting.

President Ida Wysoglad hopes we will have several members representing us at this important event.

USE POWER

Commonwealth Edison Company's customers established the season's highest power demand on Monday, Jan. 11, as severe weather conditions persisted in the company's 25-county northern Illinois service territory.

Atwood named asst. secretary of Kiwanis

Leslie M. Atwood, Antioch, has been named assistant secretary of Kiwanis International for Administrative Services effective Jan. 4.

In this capacity he has supervision over the finance, data processing, supplies, circulation, duplicating, administrative services, personnel and convention departments of the Kiwanis General Office in Chicago. He succeeds William P. Jepson, who resigned in late 1981.

The Kiwanis General Office is administrative headquarters for a 300,000 member service organization, Kiwanis International, whose 8,000 clubs are located in nearly 80 nations around the world.

Atwood comes to Kiwanis from the Marriott Corp. Most recently (1975 to the present) he served in various administrative capacities in Marriott's Theme Park group—Great America Parks in San Francisco and Chicago and a "managed park" in Rye, N.Y. Prior to that he worked with Marriott in its restaurant operations and corporate finance divisions.

Atwood was educated at Benjamin Franklin University, Washington, D.C. He has also completed special courses in computer programming.

Atwood and his wife have two children.

Elect Bishoff president

William C. Bishoff, formerly an Antioch merchant and a past president of Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry, has just been elected to the position of president, chief executive officer and director of Sebrite Corp.

Sebrite operates a national financial marketing company primarily involved in the manufactured housing industry and are headquartered in Grand Rapids, Mich.

The Bishoff's along with their children David, Debbie and Karen successfully began and have since operated the Western Auto Store in Antioch since 1970.

Timely drama set at PM&L

All is being readied for the opening of Brian Clark's "Whose Life Is It Anyway?" at the PM&L Theater, 877 Main, Antioch.

The first performance will take place on Saturday night, Feb. 13. Later presentations are set for Friday and Saturday nights, Feb. 19, 20, 26 and 27. Curtain time for these evening shows is 8:30 p.m.

There will be a matinee performance at 2:30 Sunday Afternoon, Feb. 21. PM&L's Sunday matinees have become increasingly popular among the area's theatergoers, many who sometimes find it difficult or inconvenient to see the shows on Friday and Saturday nights.

The PM&L production of "Whose Life Is It Anyway?" is directed by Lou Jones of Round Lake. His cast features Philip Jaeger of Zion in the central role. Other players include Ginny Schaufel, Paddock Lake; Donna O'Donnell, Lake Villa; Tom Hausman, Nancy Balmes, Peter Thelin, David Carlson, Bruce Stamm, Larry Bersie, and George Blanksten, Antioch; Priscilla Gwin, Waukegan and Frank Greenwood and Sid Groner from Round Lake.

"Whose Life Is It Anyway?" can in some ways be regarded as a comedy. Nevertheless the play raises the tantalizing and currently controversial question of the propriety of "pulling the plug" on a severely and incurably incapacitated hospital patient. The timeliness of this perplexing issue accounts in part for the popularity the play has enjoyed in earlier stage productions, one starring Mary Tyler Moore, and for the current movie version featuring Richard Dreyfuss.

Call (312) 395-3055 for reservations. Also, remember to check in at the PM&L box office by 8:15 on the night, or 2:15 on the afternoon, you plan to discover "Whose Life Is It Anyway?"

Engagement

YOPP—UVEGES

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Yopp, Antioch, announce the engagement of their daughter, Karen Sue, to John Michael Uveges, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Uveges, Middletown, R.I.

The future bride is a graduate of Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington. She is program director and senior therapist for Family Counseling Center, Columbia, Mo.

The future groom is a 1978 graduate of Providence College, Providence, R.I. He has a master's degree in counseling from the University of Missouri-Columbia.

Both are seeking doctorates in counseling psychology at UMC. An Aug. 7 wedding in Columbia is planned.

RTA FUNDS

Gov. James R. Thompson has authorized the release of a $21.7 million advance payment Thursday to the Regional Transportation Authority (RTA). The payment is based on an estimate of sales tax receipts the RTA normally would have received in February.

When I think about it

Does that paycheck cost way too much

by GLORIA DAVIS

Did you know that a big slice of the blame for the present economic situation can be laid at the doorstep of today's emmanipated women. Back girls, back! Remember I'm with you.

Really now, let's take a look at this calmly and logically. Most statistics I've come across claim that today's market-place demands two bread winners per household to make the American Dream work economically speaking.

Because we have been brainwashed into believing this, women have been the cause of two of the biggest economical blights. First their mass invasion of the job market is one of the reasons for the high unemployment rate. Secondly their demand for, and willingness to pay, high premiums for conveniences has caused a lot of the sky-rocketing prices.

Of course it took all the cleverness that Madison Ave. could muster to convince us that we absolutely need the superfluous amount of material possessions that demand these two weekly paychecks.

All the women's magazines have run reams of type dictated by phsycologists who have dedicated their lives to untying the apron strings, bent on convincing females that they better "find themselves" or "do their own thing," before it's too late. What chance has a poor girl got?

The 1982 woman is going to be happy, by their standards, whether she wants to or not.

Now if you're one of those gals who thrives on plying a profession she has studied hard for, who loves making her mark behind the perfume counter at Fields or looks forward to breaking her back over a warm typewriter instead of a hot stove, this column does not concern you.

But if you're one of the many who struggle to get some housework done before punching a clock at any mundane job that pays a high wage per hour, you're the one I'm addressing.

If you're working everyday just to help make that outlandish car payment and hate the way you have to rush home from the job just in time to do the grocery shopping, cook dinner and finish the household chores before you fall exhaustedly into bed, yours is a freedom of a different color.

If you lust for those days off just so you can enjoy some precious time within those mortgaged four walls that you are slaving for, let's analyze the situation and see if it's all really necessary.

Now let me reiterate, I'm not talking about the woman who has found deeply fulfilling employment, especially if it carries a high price tag. I'm talking about the gal, and there are tons of them, who would love to stay at home but has been brainwashed into thinking that her family's financial welfare depends on her out-of-the-home drudgery.

Let's say that you are bringing home an extra $250 per week. Some of those paychecks in point are thinner, some are fatter.

If you have any small children to be taken care of, babysitting, nursery school etc., will run about $25 per child. If you have the average American family, 1.5 children, make that $37.50.

Add about a 20 percent hike in your food budget because of those time saving convenience foods. So that's another $20. Then there's $10 per child for those labor saving pampers, if there are any infants.

If you are not fortunate enough to get a job next door, make it at least one tank-full of gas per week at $25. Let's add another $10 per week for the very minimum cost of clothing to wear to work versus those two pair of jeans and three sweatshirts that were your at home uniform.

A lot of working women eat lunch out, so there's another $15 a week, minus the cost of that can of soup or sandwich you ate at home while watching "All My Children." Mark down $10.

There's the cost of labor-saving paper plates, time saving cleaning products etc. These will take an underestimated $10 out of each paycheck.

Give or take a few dollars, you're now bringing home less than $100 and a big hunk of that will probably be negated because your total salary will knock that joint tax return into a higher bracket.

Among the costs not mentioned are the need for a better car than the old beater that was good enough to get you to the grocery store or the kids to their Little League games. That could exceed $25 weekly.

I'm sure there are many more costs incurred by some absentee wives and mothers and all will not spend some of the monies mentioned.

If you really hate to work and would rather be that unmentionable "homemaker," take an accounting for you may be knocking yourself out for the cost of a dinner for two at a better restaurant.

Memory Lane

The Time Machine

FIFTY YEARS AGO: January 28, 1932

The Lake County bankers went on record opposing any further government entry into U.S. banking business.

Harold Minto was selected to serve as an officer on the Lake County Farm Supply Co.

Archie Mapletorpe, owner of the Main Garage, again took over active participation in the business.

Helen Lubkeman was on the fourth grade honor roll at Antioch Grade School.

Excavation started for a 200-acre lake to be located in the Robert C. Aht's Antioch Hills Subdivision.

The National Food Store ad showed grapefruit, three for 13 cents; Gold Medal Flour, five pound bag, 16 cents; Coffee, two pounds for 35 cents and catsup, two eight ounce bottles for 19 cents.

THIRTY YEARS AGO: January 31, 1952

Robert Wilton received a past president's pin at the Lion's Club Ladies Night.

Earle R. Gibbs caught a 58 pound grouper and William Mongan, a 60 pound amberjack, near Miami Beach.

Homer LaPlante and Phil Anderson gave a farewell party for William Overton at the LaPlante home.

Ann McMillen, senior at Antioch High School, was selected by her classmates and teachers to receive the Daughters of the American Revolution award.

Antioch Nash Sales advertised the new Weather Eye Conditioned Air System.

The Antioch A&P advertised chuck roasts for 67 cents a pound; sliced bacon for 39 cents a pound; eggs for 47 cents a dozen and Eight O'Clock Coffee at 77 cents a pound.

TEN YEARS AGO: Feb. 2, 1972

Lloyd (Red) Murrie was just about to complete a very intensive campaign for one of the five open spots on the Lake County Board.

Divers searched for the body of a snowmobiler that was thought to have gone through the ice on Bluff Lake. It turned out that the 18 year old from Chicago was safe at a nearby resort.

Police Chief Jack Davis announced the new "Ride Along Program," in which high school students would ride the squad cars with the Antioch Police on the 4 to 9 p.m. shift.

Ken Smouse was busy directing rehearsals of PM&I's production of "Lend An Ear." Appearing in the cast were Gloria Davis, Aileen Biehl, Dee Baum, Steve Smouse, Bob Lindblad, Shirley Jensen and Tom Hausman.

Rudy Eckert was selected to be the 1972 VIP at St. Peter's VIP Dinner Dance, to be held on March 25.

Lorenze's Smart Country House advertised broiled lobster tail for $5.50.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Students at Antioch High School are champions in more than just basketball! Did you know that Antioch placed first against Deerfield, Mundelein and Warren in the 1981 Tooth Pick Bridge Building Contest.

Antioch high students placed as follows: beauty, Carol Blecke, a first; Blecke also took a second in originality; Kendall Patrick and Kevin Korando both placed second in beauty; Sheri Frydrychowicz and Linda Rampale took a second in originality; Arthur Neubauer took a third in beauty; Kendall Kirkpatrick took a third in originality and Linda Rampale and Sheri Frydrychowicz took a fourth in strength.

It looks like the arctic weather kept Christmas in Antioch a little longer this year.

I imagine all that snow-ploughing kept the village maintenance crews from taking down the Christmas decorations until Jan. 28.

Shades of "Pomp and Circumstance!" Thursday, Feb. 4, is the big day for Antioch High School seniors. That's the day when they will be measured for their caps and gowns.

Reports are already out that the Emmons Grade School PTO is planning that wonderful annual fashion show again. Titled "An Evening In the Country," it will be on April 17 at the Antioch VFW Center. Again the evening will include dinner and dancing.

Krahn to intern at savings, loan

Dawn Krahn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert E. Krahn of Antioch, is participating in the Wells College January internship program this month.

Wells, a woman's liberal arts college in Aurora, N.Y., designates the month of January as a one-month semester and offers students the options of internships, interdisciplinary courses, study abroad or independent study.

Almost 200 women are doing internships, which allow them to explore possible career fields and apply classroom knowledge in working situations. Each internship is sponsored by a faculty member to insure its academic value.

Krahn is interning at Antioch Savings and Loan Assn. Her duties include working in the accounting office.

Emmons honors listed

The following students have attained honor roll status for the second nine weeks grading period at Emmons School.

Eighth Grade: Tina Chasley, Beth Dubak, Kelly Gatti, Karen Hoff, Stan Kulligowski, Kay Lindsey, Christy Racz, Scott Ranney, Loretta Shanley and Laura Wegl.

Seventh Grade: Mary Bodin, Dave Chisholm, Kim Crank, Christine Johnson, Amy McPhee, Susan Nauman, Michelle Pavelski, Rick Ruck, Linda Sexton and Traci Villa.

Sixth Grade: Troy Crippen, Kim Elmhorn, Dan Golding, Brad Hamlin, Neil Kulligowski, Donna Lee, Tim MacDonald and Matthew Sexton.

FINES RAISED

Illinois legislators, during the last session, passed several new laws which will result in the fine and costs paid by many traffic violators being increased from the present $35 to $50. Illinois Supreme Court Rules establish present bail amounts for traffic, ordinance, conservation and misdemeanor offenses.

In order to be on the honor roll, a student must have at least two A's and two B's or three A's and one C in the four academic subjects, and no other marks lower than C.

In character traits, no grade of U will be allowed for the honor roll. In order to receive a year-end award, a student must be on the honor roll three times.

Carole reports Snow removal an endless effort

by CAROL RISK

One of the things supermost in many Antioch area residents conversations right now is the weather. Snow can be fun with ice skating, tobogganing, skiing, snowmobiling, cups of hot chocolate and bowls of chili and fresh brisk air, however it's not fun to drive on slick streets, walk on ice and snow packed sidewalks or to try negotiating parking lots that resemble the Alaskan Tundra.

Two locations that are frequently mentioned as being particularly bad are the sidewalks in front of the Dairy Queen on Main St., and the other is across the street at Park Ave. and Main St., surrounding the out-of-business gas station at that location.

It is not legal for the village to demand that property or business owners keep their sidewalks or parking lots cleared of ice and snow, but perhaps the Chamber of Commerce could influence these lazybones, if not for safety's sake then for the benefit of the business district along both Lake and Main Sts.

A random check among six businesses located on these two thoroughfares, indicates that most are attempting to keep up with the problem.

Jewel, Antioch Foods, the Family Shoe Store, King's Drug Store, Centruv 21 Real Estate and BJ Men's Wear and Sporting Goods all said they try to maintain their sidewalks and parking lots, EJ's Camera Shop declined to comment on the situation.

Mayor Ray Tott said snow removal crews are working night and day trying to keep the streets clear, and that the village is at the point of hauling the snow away as there is no place to push it to anymore. Tott also commented that the ice that is packed under the snow is making total clearing especially difficult.

TO GET CHEESE

Gov. James R. Thompson said that 1.5 million pounds of processed American cheese for needy Illinois residents will be distributed by the end of February.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT
Dr. R. A. Sona, OPTOMETRIST

CAN TINTED GLASSES HURT EYES?

Plain, ordinary tinted glasses won't improve your ability to see. Neither will they hurt your eyes. Some people like to wear them because they shield their eyes from sunlight or the glare of bright lights.

There's no harm in wearing them indoors if the light is good. But they aren't recommended when the lights are low. Your eyes depend on light for their ability to see. The combination of tinted glasses and poor lighting means your eyes will have to strain to see. Do that too often or for long periods and you will probably get eye-strain headaches.

But if tinted glasses are worn because the eyes are bothered in any way, it's a good idea to have an eye examination first. Sensitivity to bright light is a warning that your eyes may be straining to focus on objects that are near or far away. Tinted glasses won't improve your vision or take the strain away. Only prescription glasses can do that. Prescription glasses can be tinted, too.

Sequoit defense sparks 50-47 win

In a game that was a tight one all the way, with Stevenson having a slight edge during the first half and Antioch doing the same during the second, the Sequoit varsity cagers came up with a 50-47 win over the Patriots on Friday, Jan. 29.

"Mike Gofron was the big spark throughout the game, supported well by the rest of the team," said Coach Roger Andrews.

Gofron lead the Sequoit scoring with 15 points and Steve Sheedlo and Bob Gatti were close behind, both marking down 14 points.

"The whole team did a good job defensively with some good solid rebounding," said Andrews.

He added, "There was a little to be desired offensively because we had too many turnovers but we also forced Stevenson into a lot of turnovers."

Antioch had 35 rebounds,

Stevenson, 28, and the Sequoits had 23 turnovers with the Patriots having 22.

Stevenson lead at the end of the first quarter, 12-10, and the score remained close through the rest of the game.

With the score 45-44, Antioch edging, and 2:20 left, Gatti made a short jumper, Gofron came through with the front end of a one and one and with just two seconds left, Sheedlo's two free throws made it, 50-45.

Stevenson made a last try good, making the final score 50-47.

The Sequoits will face Round Lake at home on Friday, Feb. 5 and Grayslake, at Grayslake, on Saturday, Feb. 6.

"Round Lake should be ready to chomp on someone after losing their last two games," said Andrews and he expects Grayslake to be keyed-up after the Round Lake win.

A to Z Rental Looking For Another Location

Even though the Lake County Board has rejected his request for rezoning of the property south of Antioch, on Rte. 83, from residential to commercial twice, Frank Curtis, owner of the A to Z Rental Co., has not given up the fight.

Curtis, who claims he has "too much invested in the 1.3 acre parcel to give up on it," is presently in the process of looking for another location for his rental business.

He said that, so far, all the sites that he has investigated have been priced too high. Curtis, who has been leasing his present location, just north of the proposed construction site that he is in the process of purchasing on contract, wants to own the property his business is located on. He claims that only a living can be made but not any real profit when renting from someone else.

Vowing to stay in business and continue the fight, Curtis refuses to say whether or not any legal action against the county board is in the offing.

Basics

Second Lt. Jack H. Achs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horst J. Achs of 26032 W. Leland Ave., Antioch, has completed a field artillery officer basic course at the U.S. Army Field Artillery School, Fort Sill, Okla.

Ask Dr. Sven

by Robert T. Sven B.S.D.D.S.

Wisdom Teeth

What troublesome things! Problems with wisdom teeth demonstrate that as mankind has evolved, our jaws have become shorter. The trouble is that our teeth haven't shrunk as quickly, leading to a shortage of space.

Some people have extra long jaws that have room for wisdom teeth. Other people are lucky enough not ever to grow them. However, most of us have wisdom teeth and no good place for them to go. Sometimes they erupt halfway through the gums and stop. Sometimes they remain totally submerged in the jawbones, often tilted at odd angles.

Occasionally these teeth can cause severe infections. Now and then cysts and even tumors may form, and these can be painless for a long time. For this reason, it is a good idea to have your dentist check your wisdom teeth periodically. Often, the wisest thing to do about wisdom teeth is to remove them.

Dr. Sven will be happy to answer individual questions about dental problems. Address personal inquiries to his office.

Over 200 enthusiastic Chamber of Commerce members and guests attended the annual installation dinner, held in the Tower Room of the Antioch Bowl, on Saturday, Jan. 30.

1981's Chamber president, Mark Mc Kinney officially turned the gavel, which he forgot to bring, over to 1982's president, Bill Groeninger. The highlight of the evening came when Groeninger presented gifts to the new officers and directors of the Chamber.

Dan Dreyer is 1982's first vice president,

Don Marski, second vice president, Robin Dixon, secretary and Peter Cleven, Bruce Jablonski, Sue Koppa, Bob Mattson and Claud Smith are the new directors.

Committee chair-people include Sandi Siegmeyer, Dan Dugenske, Sue Koppa, Mike Gantar, Dick Paddock, Bruce Jablonski, Florence Babusek and Dixie Sparks.

After Mayor Raymond Toft greeted those attending and talked of even greater cooperation between the village and the Chamber in the upcoming year, dancing to Total Eclipse commenced.
